

OTHER USES OR DISCLOSURES THAT CAN BE MADE WITHOUT CONSENT OR AUTHORIZATION

- As required during an investigation by law enforcement agencies.
- In response to a legal proceeding or subpoena
- To avert serious threat to public health and safety

USES AND DISCLOSURES OF PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION REQUIRING YOUR AUTHORIZATION

You have the right to revoke authorization, in writing, at any time. You understand that if you revoke that permission, I will no longer disclose any of your child's medical information. I am unable to take back any disclosures I have already made with you permission and I am required to retain my records of the care I have already provided.

YOUR INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS REGARDING YOUR MEDICAL INFORMATION

- If you believe your privacy rights have been violated, you may file a complaint with Debi Abdow-Addis, MS,PT, and the privacy officer of Pediatric Physical Therapy Services.
- You may request a restriction of limitation on the medical information I use or disclose in the treatment, payment and health care operations. I am required to agree with your request. You must submit your request in writing.
- You have the right to request how the practice sends medical information to the patient and where you would like those communications sent. You must also make this request in writing.
- You may request to inspect and copy medical information that may be used to make decisions about patient care. Your request must be submitted in writing.
- You have the right to amend medical information if it is incomplete or incorrect. The written request must give the reason for the desire to amend the records and the request can be denied if indicated.
- You have a right to a paper copy of this notice of Privacy Practices at any time.

Changes to the notice: I reserve the right to make updates and changes to Notice of Privacy Practices at any time with respect to the medical information I already have about the patient as well as any information I receive in the future. The most current with the effective date in the upper left corner will be posted.
